

Supporting First Responders in Wyoming

BrightNight at work in our project communities

How we helped

BrightNight is dedicated to delivering direct benefits to the communities where our projects are located, exemplified by our Dutchman solar and storage project in Converse County, Wyoming. During development coordination and diligence, we engaged with local first responders and learned about their concerns regarding emergency response within our solar farm. The Converse County Search and Rescue team highlighted the need for advanced equipment to enhance their emergency preparedness efforts. In response, BrightNight donated a state-of-the-art drone to the team, significantly boosting their capability to manage emergencies both on the project site and in the surrounding community. Our commitment to community support and safety remains a cornerstone of BrightNight's work.

Our Dutchman community

BrightNight's work in the Dutchman project community is a vital part of our mission to be a trusted and valued member of the community. Our impact is ongoing, as we strive to support local initiatives and foster strong community ties. After hastening feedback from the community, we made substantial changes to our project layout to improve road safety for a nearby community and accommodate walking trails used by project neighbors. Through these efforts, BrightNight demonstrates its commitment to sustainable development and local enrichment in every community our projects call home.
